

Dear Families,

We are excited to share that Kaymbu has released updates to their Messaging feature. If you have not already done so, we recommend downloading the Kaymbu for Families app to streamline access to the updates.

With these updates, families will receive two types of Messages: Announcements and Conversations. Announcements allow us to share widespread communication with all families in our classroom. We will use them for information and updates that are important and relevant to all families. Conversations allow us to have back and forth communication with your family. Conversations can be sent to either all of the teachers or all of the directors.

It is important to note that you cannot reply to Announcements but you can start a new Conversation thread at any time. You can learn more about these updates in the article, Messaging Overview: For Families. When time permits, please review the article for more information.

Please let us know if you have any questions!
